

I am a senior at Rowan University, my major being Writing Arts with a Minor in Creative Writing. I also have a concentration in Professional/Technical Writing. I want to become an author and an editor, and I believe this internship will help me gain more experience in both areas.

One of my biggest accomplishments is publishing my first short story book, and one of my poems being published on a pamphlet. Those projects taught me a lot about writing, editing, and the publishing process. I am now working on more projects that I hope to publish in the future. I also created my own blog website, where I write posts and share my work with readers. Running my blog has helped me practice editing, keeping up with deadlines, and building a connection with an audience.

Through my classes and personal projects, I have learned how important it is to stay dedicated, pay attention to detail, and keep improving as a writer. I enjoy being creative, but I also enjoy the careful process of revising and shaping writing into its best form. This internship would be the perfect place to grow my skills while also helping with writing and editorial work.

Thank you for taking the time to read my application. I would love the chance to bring my passion for writing and editing to this internship and learn from the experience.

Sincerely,

Kianna Garrett
